Markus Horn new ECTA President

Frankfurt, 28 June 2019 – "Let's work together to shape our future", said Markus Horn, new President of the European Cutting Tools Association (ECTA) on Thursday. Horn is Managing Director of Paul Horn GmbH in Tübingen and was elected ECTA President on the occasion of the World Cutting Tools Conference 2019 at Tegernsee. In his inaugural speech, he thanked all ECTA members for the trust they had placed in him and his predecessor Marc Schuler from the Swiss company Dixi Polytool SA for his commitment.

Horn: "ECTA offers our industry many opportunities to shape the future as well as to promote our industry in Europe and around the world. And that's exactly what I'm going to do during my tenure."

European Cutting Tools Association (ECTA) is the European association of manufacturers of cutting tools and clamping technology. On a triennial basis, ECTA organises world conferences at various locations.
